Research and Testing Centre (RTC)

Established in 2006, a specialized workplace that is engaged in:

- testing foreigner's Czech language level
- scientific work in linguistics and linguodidactics
- training of teachers
- representation and other tasks

We engage in Czech language testing in the following areas:

- creating, piloting, organization (administration and certification) and evaluation of standardized Czech language exams for foreigners (including exams for young people)
- methodological coordination, monitoring and evaluation of semester and final exams in Czech at the ILPS CU centres
- methodological coordination, monitoring and evaluation of other standardised exams in foreign languages provided within ILPS CU

The scientific research activity of the RTC focuses mainly on:

- analysis and implementation of methodological procedures for language testing and the production of standardized tests
- involvement in projects aimed at testing foreign languages (including Czech as a foreign language)

We provide training for teachers such as:

- training of staff involved in testing Czech as a foreign language
- organising professional training, courses, workshops and seminars focusing on testing Czech as a foreign language
- advisory services, audits

In the area of representation and promotion, RTC is responsible for:

- tasks related to the promotion and presentation of standardized exams and teaching materials produced by the institute
- representation of Charles University in international organizations (ALTE, etc.)
