Engineering and IT Foundation Program at UJOP

International students from 21 countries came to ÚJOP in 2023 to prepare for admission to the best technical universities in the Czech Republic. Intensive training in the Czech language will allow you to reach the B1/B2 level in a year, which will allow you to study at a bachelor's or master's degree for free. Specialized subjects will not only help you prepare for entrance exams, but will also become a support in the first year of study at the university.

In November, we talked about how the Engineering and IT COMPLEX foundation course works, and in this article, we will cover the main points.

Study at the best engineering & IT universities in Europe and the world

Any Czech university that has accreditation is a high-quality educational institution. However, several Czech universities can boast of being included in the ranking of the best universities in the world. There are about 25,000 universities in the world, but international rankings usually include the first thousand or even 500 universities.

Apply for the foundation programme

Foundation programmes in English developed by UJOP Charles University are high quality preparation for your studies. Our students have 90 % plus success rate and most of them are accepted to more than one university.

The course provides comprehensive support:

1. Securing a residence permit if you need a visa to the Czech Republic
2. Intensive academic course: preparation in biology, chemistry and physics with practical exercises and mock entrance tests.
3. Language course: medical English + basic Czech.
4. Individual support and feedback: personal consultation and feedback from tutors.
5. Opportunity to stay in our dormitories

Preparation for university entrance exams

Mrs. Vesecká, math teacher at ÚJOP: Students who come to study are often unfamiliar with crucial topics. Therefore, we aim to bridge the gaps in their education. Additionally, we strive to familiarize them with what they already know, but using the terminology, signage, and symbols commonly used in Czech universities. Do you really want to graduate from a technical university? In our foundation courses, we will teach you math and physics. You just need to show some initiative, go to school, and complete the homework and assignments given by your teacher. If you prepare regularly and attend classes consistently, you will definitely master mathematics and physics.

Preparing for the first year

Our task is to ensure that students not only pass the entrance exams, but also that they pass the most important first year at the university.

Mrs. Vesecká, math teacher at ÚJOP: As I mentioned, our goal is not solely to help students pass school entrance exams, as the mathematics assessments are relatively straightforward. If they master the curriculum we teach here, it will provide a solid foundation, even for their first year at university. Students at a university don't have many new things to study in the first year; it's just a bit more math. To comprehend it, they only need to grasp what we teach them here. In physics, when they enter technical faculties, it often happens that they return and say, "What we learned here during the year was sufficient for my first year." Sometimes, they even mention, "I was the best in my year among the Czech students." That is, indeed, our goal.

The engineering foundation program contains special subjects. One of these subjects is Computer Science. It is necessary not so much for the entrance exams, but rather for students to feel confident during the first year of their bachelor's degree. Mr. Jílek talks about the content of the subject, what it takes to succeed in programming, and what competencies you need to have.

Feedback from international students

And these are the reviews of current students from anonymous questionnaires, which are collected regularly by the methodological department to analyze the educational process:

- "I am loving my IT class. It makes me think hard and solve problems using logic!"
- "Study advisors are very cooperative and helpful"
- "I really enjoyed hearing from two alumni of UJOP... They inspired me to stay and work harder here. I really look up to them"
- "Mathematics and computer science are the most interesting, thanks to professional teachers and interesting tasks"
- I want to say a big thank you to all my teachers"
- "It is a wonderful experience to study in Podebrady"
