Increase your chances for admission to FIT CTU

Pure informatics without the fluff, a friendly atmosphere, a combination of theoretical instruction balanced with practice, openness and high flexibility – this is what defines FIT . The faculty is rigorous in instruction, ambitious in research and open to cooperation.

At FIT, students are taught while simultaneously engaging in research and commercial projects. Instead of creating algorithms that will never be used or writing code "for the drawer," the faculty enables students to participate in real-world projects. They can take part in academic research and solve practical problems for the commercial sector in the fields that interest them most.

A friendly atmosphere is considered the first line in FIT's internal code. Although it is difficult to measure or scientifically prove, this atmosphere can be felt at every stage of education and across all levels of management.

For those who join FIT, IT is not just about money. The faculty is a community of enthusiasts who naturally attract like?minded individuals. Its scientific achievements, successful graduates, and students who grow to share the same passion for informatics are the driving force that keeps FIT moving forward.
